DID YOU KNOW? November 6-7 || Use concrete visual rules to help children stay safe

Parents in a crowded place, like a playground or store, will often tell their children, "Stay where I can see you." While the parent understands that this means, "Stay close," a child does not necessarily understand the limit — when can a parent see or not see them? A clearer direction would be to tell your child, "Stay where you can see me." This gives them the boundary — they must be able to see you no matter where they go. Now, your child can check in frequently, all while staying in eyesight. For more tips, request the VIRTUS® article "Communication Tip No. 5: Stranger Danger," at lacatholics.org/did-you-know.

Jesus observed how the crowd put money into the treasury. Many rich people put in large sums. A poor widow also came and put in two small coins worth a few cents.

THANKSGIVING MEAL VOUCHERS FROM LITTLE VONS AND VISITATION

For the past few years, Little Vons and Visitation joined together to provide Thanksgiving Dinners for the needy in our community. However, this year, due to a change in policy at Vons, what is being offered instead are Thanksgiving Meal Vouchers. Beginning October 20 and extending through November 11, customers at Vons can include in their order a pledge of $5.00, $10.00, $15.00 or more. The store will record all the donations, and on November 11 will give Thanksgiving Food Vouchers to Visitation which we can then distribute to the needy families.

Pastor Post

Before coming to Visitation, I worked in St. Columbkille / Nativity Parishes in South Central L.A. Most of the community there was African-American and Latino. Many of the people made a living selling food, drinks, household items at street corners. One prominent feature were the paleteros, ice cream vendors pushing their carts through the streets, usually surrounded by scores of children. In such a poor area, the Catholic grade schools amazingly were open because of the generosity of the archdiocese and parents, who sacrificed greatly to have their children attend, in hopes that a better education could lift them to a more successful future. At the kindergarten graduation, the children would come forward to receive their "diploma" and announce to the assembly of parents what they wanted to be when they grew up. Some would say, "doctores" or "cientistas" or "policía." But one little boy, upon receiving his diploma, loudly proclaimed. "I want to be a PALETERO!" to the delighted laughter of the crowd.

Like those parents, we all want great success for our children. Doctors. Lawyers. Computer scientists. Teachers. Something wonderful like that. So, what do we hope for them to become? As I write this, the church celebrates All Saints Day, and throughout the month of November, we bring to mind all those who have gone before us into the Kingdom. May I then recommend a different view of what our children can become, what we all might strive for: To be a saint. St. Paul calls all baptized Christians "hagios" meaning "saints" or simply "the holy ones." To be one of those holy people who live the beatitudes, who live on the right side of goodness. To be merciful, to be a peacemaker, to be clean of heart, to thirst for justice, to be righteous, to be a child of God. These are the ones that Jesus says will inherit the earth and enter the Kingdom of God. Don't we all know someone who is so loving, so generous, so giving of themselves? Don't we all say the same thing of such a person: "He/she is a saint!" Perhaps during this month, we can strive for just that: to be a holy one and to try to bring holiness to all whom we meet. After all, who doesn't want to grow up to be a saint?

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia (ANGRISANO)

APOSTLES CREED

I believe in God,
 the Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
 and in Jesus Christ,
 His only Son, our Lord, who was conceived
 by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried;
 He descended into hell;
 on the third day He rose again from the dead;
 He ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from there He will come to judge the living and the dead.
 I believe in the Holy Spirit,
 the Holy Catholic Church,
 the communion of Saints,
 the forgiveness of sins,
 the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.
 Amen

PREPARATION OF THE TABLE AND GIFTS

Take My Life

Take my life and let it be consecrated to Thee Take my moments and my days, let them flow in ceaseless praise Take my hands and let them move at the impulse of Thy love Take my feet and let them be swift and beautiful for Thee Take my voice and let me sing always, only for my King Take my lips and let them be filled with messages from Thee Take my silver and my gold, not a might would I withhold Take my intellect and use every power as You choose Take my will and make it Thine, it shall be no longer mine Take my heart, it is Thine own, it shall be Thy royal throne Take my love, my Lord I pour at Your feet, it's treasure store Take myself and I will be ever, only, all for Thee
