Dear Sisters and Brothers,

I was recently listening to an interesting interview on the virtue of chastity during which the question “what is a human being?” was posed. In answering the question Bishop Erik Varden recalls that the Greek Fathers of the Church primarily understood a human being as a person. The Greek word for person is prosopon which directly translates as “one having a face”. But if you break down the word prosopone you find that it is actually a combination of two Greek words: pros (towards) and ops (face). So a human being is someone who has a face that is oriented toward the face of another; a face which in turn is oriented toward it. So for the Greek Fathers to be a human being ultimately means to long for and desire to meet the gaze of another. In seeing and being seen we are made free and flourish as human beings.

While this language might seem a bit technical or antiquated I find it so relevant for our modern world. Part of the tragedy for people today is that we feel that we are stuck having to work ourselves out on our own (perhaps with a little help from an iPhone screen!). We feel a need to first sort ourselves out, acquire the tools for our own fulfillment, and only then can we go out and meet the world. True; part of the human experience is to be fragmented, incomplete, and fragile. But when we allow ourselves to be seen as we are - with all our imperfections and complexities - and for who we can become by God's grace will we have a sense of our own dignity, freedom, confidence, and joy. All of this flows from being seen for what we are and recognizing in the gaze of another what we can become. Further, God gifts us with each other so that we can support each other in human flourishing. We were never meant to tackle life alone.

I invite you to consider your relationships with this in mind. As a spouse, mother, father, sibling, friend, or co-worker. Do we really see each other? Or are we too busy running around, meeting deadlines, and checking things off our TO DO lists. Imagine if we saw our relationships as opportunities to truly behold the other, accompany them, and help bring clarity to who they are made in God's image and likeness. Perhaps we would then appreciate all the more our fundamental relationship with God because at the end of the day all of us are children of God living before the face of God. God sees us for who we are - sins and all - and yet sees what we can become and is ready to assist us with every grace to help us flourish.

Happy Easter and have a wonderful week!

Peace,
Fr. Matt

Don't forget:

- Bring a Friend to Mass Weekend! I'm looking forward to next weekend as we welcome our family and friends to worship with us at Visitation. My love and prayers are with you this week as you personally reach out to others and invite them to join you at Mass.
- First Holy Communion! Pray for our children receiving their First Holy Communion on April 20th. May they experience Jesus' enduring love for them in the Eucharist.
- Good Shepherd Sunday! April 21st is Good Shepherd Sunday. This is a special day to pray for your priests and ask God's blessing upon them.
- O'Grady Golf Classic! See on our parish website how you can participate in our O'Grady Golf Classic and help support our parish school. Thanks for your generosity!

Heavenly Father, we thank you for the gift of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who promised to stay with us always, until the end of the age. Reawaken our wonder at His presence in the Most Holy Eucharist. May our hearts burn within us as He opens the Scriptures and breaks the bread. Give us the eyes of faith to recognize His presence in our brothers and sisters, especially in the face of the poor and the suffering. Nourished by the Eucharist, send us forth to walk faithfully as missionary disciples, proclaiming the Gospel to every heart and extending Your kingdom to every land. We ask this through Christ our Lord. /Amen.

APOSTLES CREED

I believe in God,
 the Father Almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
 and in Jesus Christ,
 His only Son, our Lord,
 who was conceived
 by the Holy Spirit,
 born of the Virgin Mary,
 suffered under Pontius Pilate,
 was crucified,
 died and was buried;
 He descended into hell;
 on the third day He rose again
 from the dead;
 He ascended into heaven,
 and is seated at the right hand
 of God the Father Almighty;
 from there He will come
 to judge the living and the dead.
 I believe in the Holy Spirit,
 the Holy Catholic Church,
 the communion of Saints,
 the forgiveness of sins,
 the resurrection of the body,
 and life everlasting.
 Amen
